67 The hours of opening and closing the Saving's Bank have been changed. See advertisement.

Though neither Mr. Hull or any other gentleman, is invited by Mr. Beebe or his friends to meet and discuss with him, the Maine law question at any of his present appointments, the Journal wishes Hull to follow him about and prevent him from speaking to the people. Maine law argument!!

Indianapolis itself is but an out-of-the-way stopping place for benighted travelers, at best.—St. Louis Democrat.

It is evident from the above that Mr. Benton's editor has not done much traveling lately. He is a Know-Nothing. Speaking of K. N.'s, reminds us that the only thing St Louis is noted for its Native American riots—two having occurred in that place within three years. Ned Bunting was the leader of the first.

SCHOOL BOOKS.—Mr. WILSON, the traveling agent of the Publishers, has laid upon our table the following school books, which have been recommended by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, for use in the Union and High Schools of the State:

Parker's Juvenile Philosophy;

Parker's Compendium of Natural Philosophy;

Ray's Algebra, Part First, an elementary work;

Ray's Algebra, Part Second, an advanced work;

Willard's School History of the U. S.;

Willard's Larger History of the U. S.;

Fulton's and Eastman's Book Keeping;

Wright's Analytical Orthography;

Martin's Orthopist.

These books are well adapted to the wants of that grade of schools for which they are intended.

They are kept for sale at retail, by booksellers generally throughout the State, and at wholesale by A. S. Barnes & Co., Clark, Austin, & Smith, and Pratt, Woodford, & Co., New York; W. B. Smith & Co., Cincinnati; Thomas, Cowperthwait, & Co., Philadelphia, and Morton & Griswold, Louisville.

67 DR. VALENTINE, the originator of practical lectures on character, will open his budget of fun this evening at Masonic Hall. The Doctor administers the cheapest and best medicine—laughter—in such doses as will please the most fastidious. Go to his lecture if you wish to "laugh and grow fat."

We had copious showers on Monday evening, which cooled the atmosphere a little.

No one of our dealers has yet received Oysters for sale. They have them in Cincinnati and Cleveland.

DR. FIZZEE'S TOON WASH.—The gentleman who procured the printing at this office of labels for the above mentioned compound will please call and get what he paid for. He only got a portion of the labels.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—There will be a Temperance meeting this (Wednesday) evening, on Meridian street, near the Post Office, at 7 o'clock. Address by T. M. Eddy and other speakers.

Gen. Joseph Lane returned to the city yesterday. He is staying at the Palmer House, and will remain in the city a few days. He has, since his short absence, addressed large meetings of the Democracy of Rush, Fayette, Union and Franklin. The Democracy in that portion of the State are aroused and ready for the conflict. Speaking of these meetings, the Cincinnati Inquirer says:

"At Connersville, on Thursday, at Brookville, on Friday, at Liberty, on Saturday, large and enthusiastic meetings of the Indiana Democracy were held, and were addressed by Gen. Jo. Lane, of Oregon, Senator Bright, and Hon. John L. Robinson. We have conversed with gentlemen who were present at each and all of these assemblies, who represent them as very large and very enthusiastic, giving undiminished indications, as in 1862, of a most triumphant and glorious Democratic victory."

67 LEAVES OF FOLIAGE LAUNDRY.

Leaves of Foliage Laundry, No. 10, South Meridian street, Indianapolis, Ind., for the laundry of clothes, linens, &c., &c., neatly and promptly executed at THIS OFFICE upon moderate terms. An account of our service will be sent on application for the price of laundry.

67 WABASH AND Erie CANAL LINE.

Steamer leaving Louisville, Ky., for the Great Lakes, via the Wabash Canal, in the month of October, will be offered for sale under bid, on the 16th day of October, at the general office of the General Assembly of the State, Indianapolis, Indianapolis, Ind., 1861, entitled: "An account of our canal, set forth for the use of the officers of Canal Commissioners."
